10 Ways to Get More out of Your NALSC Membership

- Regularly read, like, comment on, and share NALSC's LinkedIn posts (see <https://www.linkedin.com/company/nalsc/posts/?feedView=all>).
 - Add the NALSC logo (available from HQ at info@NALSC.org) to your email signatures and websites along with the statement: "(This search firm) is a proud member of NALSC and is accountable to the NALSC Code of Ethics®."
 - Contact HQ at info@NALSC.org to find out more about participating on NALSC's ad hoc committees (Belonging and Inclusion, Events Prep).
 - Submit suggestions to info@NALSC.org for future events, programs, speakers, podcasts, or newsletter articles (especially for the "Well THAT Surprised Me!" column).
 - Send any ideas and suggestions to info@NALSC.org to make our website both more valuable and user-friendly.
 - Provide the U-LPQ <https://www.nalsc.org/u-lpq-forms/> to your partner candidates and encourage your clients to accept it to streamline the recruiting process industry-wide.
 - Listen to the NALSC Recruiter Stories and Chambers Associate podcasts <https://www.nalsc.org/podcasts/>.
 - Ask Mary Clare Garber mclarb@princetonlegal.com or Melissa Peters mpeters@mplegalsearch.com for details about running for NALSC's Board of Directors.
 - Attend the NALSC 2024 Fall Symposium <https://www.nalsc.org/2024-fall-symposium/>.
 - Calendar the NALSC 2025 Annual Conference scheduled to take place on February 27 - March 1 at the Hotel aka Miami (details, Room Block and Registration will be available soon).
